FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

CHENGDU, China, September 23, 2013

The 37 member International Council, governing body of the worldwide International College of Dentists, is meeting this week in Chengdu, China, for three days of intensive discussions, deliberations and decision-making.

The International Councilors, representing 15 Sections of the College from every corner of the globe and five International Officers, led by 2013 International President Dr. I. Leon Aronson, will participate in Council debates and dialogue, committee meetings and Strategic Thinking program.

A major feature of the annual face-to-face meeting is the opportunity for delegates to come together in both formal and informal venues to review the previous year's activities, exchange ideas and experiences with humanitarian and other philanthropic ICD programs while at the same time deciding on initiatives and directions that will guide the global organization for the coming year.

At the conclusion of the meeting, elections will be held for the 2014 International Officers.
